

PHYSICIAN ASSISTANT STUDIES UTMB – INTERNATIONAL COURSES

Gaining Credit for International Courses

Below are the steps necessary to gain credit for international credits that may meet the prerequisites for the UTMB Physician Assistant Program.

- Review the Admissions Self-Appraisal posted on the UTMB Physician Assistant website.
- Obtain an evaluation of your international credits from an accredited evaluation agency and submit the evaluation to CASPA. See below for the list of credentialing agencies accepted by UTMB. Please note that you will need a detailed evaluation of each course, including the course hours for US semester credit hours and US grade equivalency.
- Basic science courses from your international credits will be used to meet the basic science prerequisites here at UTMB. Clinical or pathology courses, such as psychiatry or clinical rotations or pathophysiology, will not be accepted for basic or behavioral science credits.
- Classroom or lab hours will not be waived for prerequisites.
- Preventive medicine or community health course work will not meet statistics unless specifically described as such.
- All basic science prerequisites must be fulfilled with courses for science majors and must include a lab.
- Behavioral science prerequisites can be met with psychology or sociology courses at colleges or universities.
